Letters of Transmittal

Honourable Mark Wartman
Minister of Agriculture and Food
Legislature of Saskatchewan

Dear Minister Wartman:

In accordance with section 20 of The Agri-Food Act, 2004, I submit herewith the 2006-07 Annual Report of the Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council.

The Council has again witnessed an increase of development commissions over the past year. With the formation of the Saskatchewan Oat Development Commission and the Saskatchewan Winter Cereals Development Commission, the Council now supervises and monitors nine development commissions. The Council wishes the new development commissions success as they work to further enhance their respective industries.

The Council would also like to congratulate existing agencies for their successes and thank them for their cooperation. The Council is pleased to report that overall compliance in 2006-07 was excellent, and Council will continue to ensure that the full reporting requirements are met by all agencies. It is very important that the highest level of accountability be exercised to ensure that the trust producers have vested with these agencies is maintained.

The Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council is pleased to monitor and support those Boards and Commissions reporting to us.

Respectfully submitted,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Garf Stevenson".

Garf Stevenson, Chairperson 2006-07

Vision Statement

To create an environment for sustained growth where Saskatchewan-based producers and processors can become international leaders.

The Agri-Food Act, 2004 (Act) provides a framework for the promotion, development and regulation of agri-food products. Producer-elected and operated agencies may be established under the authority of the Act, to administer marketing and development plans. Producer operated boards and commissions, which collect either mandatory refundable or mandatory non-refundable levies used for research, development and marketing initiatives, are governed by this Act.

Established in 1990<sup>1</sup>, The Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council is a board appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council to monitor the activities of marketing and development agencies in accordance with the Act. The Council plays both a regulatory and advisory role.

The Council supervises compliance of boards and commissions within the terms and conditions of the Act, advises and updates the Minister of Saskatchewan Agriculture and Food on the operations and administration of agencies governed by the Act, and makes recommendations to the Minister.

As part of its regulatory role, the Council reviews proposed marketing and development plans, determines whether public meetings or hearings should be called in respect to the proposed plans, conducts producer votes, and makes recommendations to the Lieutenant Governor in Council or the Minister on whether to amend or terminate such plans. The Council also approves all marketing board, development board, and development commission orders to ensure compliance with the Act, consults with agencies on issues relating to federal-provincial marketing agreements, and conducts policy and program review, report review, and strategic plan review of the agencies it supervises.

The Council also investigates issues related to regulatory policies of boards and commissions. There is a separate appeal body appointed under the Act to hear appeals, the Agri-Food Appeal Committee.

In all its activities, the Council is guided by the following values and principles:

- leadership in developing and supporting competitive agriculture and food industries;
- open, fair and decisive undertakings under the authority of the Act;
- accountability for actions affecting the public interest;
- positive communication and consultation amongst participants;
- compliance with orders and regulations under the Act; and
- active development of opportunities to fulfill Saskatchewan's agricultural and food production and marketing potential.

The Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council was responsible for monitoring 16 Saskatchewan agencies in 2006-07. The three types of agencies that may be established under the Act are:

Development Commissions – A development commission is an organization charged with doing research and development for an industry. Commissions are given the power to charge a refundable levy where producers must pay but can request a refund of levy dollars. The research is used to help producers reduce their input costs, increase productivity and generally make a producer's farm more profitable. The research and cost cutting measures developed by commissions usually decrease the producers' costs in multiples of levy paid. The nine development commissions in Saskatchewan are:

<sup>1</sup> The Agri-Food Council replaced the Saskatchewan Natural Products Marketing Council, the supervisory body established under legislation preceding The Agri-Food Act, 2004.

- Saskatchewan Alfalfa Seed Producers Development Commission;
- Saskatchewan Beekeepers Development Commission;
- Canaryseed Development Commission of Saskatchewan;
- Saskatchewan Canola Development Commission;
- Saskatchewan Flax Development Commission;
- Saskatchewan Forage Seed Development Commission;
- Saskatchewan Mustard Development Commission;
- Saskatchewan Oat Development Commission; and
- Saskatchewan Winter Cereals Development Commission.

Development Boards - A development board is very similar to a commission with one important difference: a development board charges a levy that is non-refundable. Producers must pay the levy, and cannot apply for a refund. Development boards are more difficult to organize, as those wishing to start the board must convince the Lieutenant Governor in Council that the majority of the industry supports the check-off, as demonstrated through a producer plebiscite. The three development boards in Saskatchewan are:

- Sask Pork;
- Saskatchewan Pulse Crop Development Board; and
- Saskatchewan Sheep Development Board.

Marketing Boards - A marketing board administers a supply-managed marketing plan. Supply-management regulates and limits the production of a specific commodity. The original marketing boards were created in the 1970s with the intention of stabilizing supplies and ensuring that producers could be profitable. Marketing boards are also empowered to charge a non-refundable levy to support a variety of functions. The four marketing boards in Saskatchewan are:

- Chicken Farmers of Saskatchewan;
- Saskatchewan Broiler Hatching Egg Producers' Marketing Board;
- Saskatchewan Egg Producers; and
- Saskatchewan Turkey Producers Marketing Board.

2006-07 In Review

Highlights

In 2006-07, the Agri-Food Council continued to carry out its mandate to supervise the activities and administration of boards and commissions operating under The Agri-Food Act, 2004. Each agency's board of directors is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal control, complying with applicable regulations, maintaining financial records and preparing financial statements. The Council is pleased to report that overall compliance in 2006-07 was excellent, with all agencies fully meeting the reporting requirements for the fourth consecutive year, with the exception of one new agency. The Council will continue to work closely with all agencies to ensure that all reporting requirements are met in a timely fashion.

Two producer groups were successful in establishing a development commission in 2006-07. The Saskatchewan Oat Development Commission (SODC) was established on April 12, 2006. The SODC will focus on assisting oat producers in their efforts to increase profitability through the introduction of new varieties, conduct agronomic research, and develop new market opportunities. The Saskatchewan Winter Cereals Development Commission (SWCDC) was established on August 16, 2006. The SWCDC will focus on introduction of new varieties of winter cereals (winter wheat, fall rye, winter triticale), conduct agronomic research, and develop new market opportunities.

A number of producer groups indicated their interest in establishing development commissions funded by a check-off. Representatives from the organic crop, elk and seed potato industries met with Council and/or its staff over the course of the year to discuss the procedures that are necessary when proposing a new check-off. The Council and its staff act as a resource to these producer groups by attending meetings, giving presentations, monitoring votes and providing other guidance as producer groups explore the concept of a check-off for their respective industries.

The Agri-Food Act was repealed and replaced by The Agri-Food Act, 2004 in October 2004. The transition to the new Act was smooth, and work continues to update the pre-existing regulations to ensure that they conform to the new Act. As at March 31, 2007, The Commercial Egg Marketing Plan Regulations and The Sheep Development Plan Regulations, 1996 were updated to conform to the new Act. Additional regulations will be updated during the 2007-08 fiscal year.

Work continues on reaching an agreement on updated Federal-Provincial Agreements (FPA) for egg marketing and turkey marketing in Canada. Saskatchewan is dedicated to working with the respective industries on a system under the FPA that ensures growth for Saskatchewan, especially one that incorporates the consideration of Saskatchewan's comparative advantage of production.

The Council and Saskatchewan Agriculture and Food (SAF) formally submitted an appeal application to the National Farm Products Council (NFPC) regarding the Canadian Turkey Marketing Agency's (CTMA) proposed 2006-07 quota order on the basis that the quota order did not properly take into account the comparative advantage of production (CAP), as is legally required. The appeal application was denied because the NFPC deemed that the Council and SAF were not directly affected parties in the matter. The Council and SAF have since filed for a Judicial Review Application on this matter with the Federal Court. The Council remains open to further discussion on this matter, and remains hopeful that an agreement can be reached outside of court.

The Council, SAF and the Saskatchewan Egg Producers continued discussions with the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency (CEMA) regarding the allocation methodology for eggs. The Council remains open to further discussion on this matter and is hopeful that an agreement can be reached out of court.

The Council's Strategic Plan was in its fourth year of implementation in 2006-07. The Council values the strategic planning process and recognizes the Strategic Plan's importance as a tool to ensure an effective and proactive approach to monitoring and supervising the agencies under its jurisdiction.

During 2006-07, the Agri-Food Council held five board meetings and conducted four teleconference meetings.

Report of Activities

Supervision of Boards and Commissions

As part of its responsibility to supervise boards and commissions under The Agri-Food Act, 2004, the Agri-Food Council reviewed the minutes of regular and annual meetings of all boards and commissions, as well as all annual reports and the financial statements with accompanying reports. In addition, Council members and staff attended various meetings of boards and commissions, including annual general meetings, and reported back to the Agri-Food Council. Agri-Food Council staff attended a meeting of the National Association of Agri-Food Supervisory Agencies (NAASA) in Ottawa, Ontario and participated in numerous NAASA teleconferences.

Marketing Plan Reviews

No new marketing plans were submitted to the Agri-Food Council for its review during 2006-07.

Development Plan Reviews

Two new development plans were established during 2006-07. The Oat Development Plan Regulations and The Winter Cereals Development Plan Regulations were established in April and August 2006, respectively. The Council looks forward to working with the newly established commissions as they work to further develop their respective industries.

A review of the seven “pre-existing” development plans began after the new Act was enacted in October 2004. Council staff has held separate meetings with these seven development agencies to ensure that all development plans accurately reflect the needs, operations and activities of their respective agencies, and to conform to the new Act. Work will continue on updating these plans into 2007-08.

National Activities

National Marketing Agencies

The Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council is a signatory to three federal-provincial agreements (FPAs). These agreements provide the basis for operation of national marketing agencies for chicken, turkey and eggs. National agencies are essentially producer driven supply management organizations with representation from downstream sectors. The primary mandate of the national agencies is to manage the supply of primary poultry products across Canada according to the terms of the FPAs. Saskatchewan is a member of the Chicken Farmers of Canada (CFC), the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency (CEMA) and the Canadian Turkey Marketing Agency (CTMA). Saskatchewan is not a member or signatory to the Canadian Broiler Hatching Egg Marketing Agency, although membership is being considered.

Each national agency allocates a Canadian quota among participating provincial commodity boards, who in turn allocate their provincial allotments to individual producers within provincial boundaries. The national agencies target production to meet market demand at a price that covers the average producer’s cost of production plus a reasonable return on investment.

As a signatory to each of the FPAs, the Agri-Food Council is responsible for participating in matters relating to monitoring the operation of national marketing systems and participating in activities to improve their performance. The Saskatchewan Agri-Food Council co-operates with other supervisory agencies as a member of National Association of Agri-Food Supervisory Agencies (NAASA) to ensure steady progress is made in updating regulatory frameworks. The Agri-Food Council also co-operates with the National Farm Products Council (its counterpart at the national level) in its primary role as supervisor of the national marketing agencies.

In 2006-07, the Agri-Food Council continued to participate in a process initiated by Provincial and Territorial Ministers of Agriculture 1998 to renew the three FPAs, of which Saskatchewan is a signatory.

The Ministers directed NAASA to lead the renewal process to update and modernize the four poultry FPAs. The individual agencies have taken the role of drafting new operating agreements under the FPA structure. The Chicken Farmers of Canada successfully updated their FPA in 2001. While some progress was made in 2006-07, there remains a great deal of work to be completed before an agreement can be reached on a renewed FPA in the other industries.

National Association of Agricultural Supervisory Agencies

Saskatchewan continued to actively participate in 2006-07 as a member of the National Association of Agricultural Supervisory Agencies (NAASA) whose mandate is as follows:

“To assist the agri-food industry by sharing information, providing direction and supporting an environment that promotes its development and prosperity.”

In 2006-07, the Agri-Food Council continued to participate in NAASA's most recent objective, that is, to oversee the completion of renewal of FPAs by each of the national marketing agencies.

2006-07 Council Review Of Commission And Board Activities

Each agency is required to submit five reports annually, to the Agri-Food Council. The five reports include:

- an audit report on the financial statements;
- an audit report on the rules and procedures to safeguard and control agency assets;
- an audit report on compliance with authorities;
- a comparison of actual results to planned results in the audited financial statements; and
- a payee list with Board of Director approved thresholds disclosed.

Unless otherwise noted, each agency was successful in completing and submitting these five reports to the Council for the current fiscal year.

Each agency's board of directors and management are responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal control, complying with applicable regulations, maintaining financial records and preparing financial statements. Their system of internal control, legislative compliance, and financial statements are audited annually.

The Canaryseed Development Commission of Saskatchewan (CDCS) will publish its first annual report at the end of the 2007 fiscal year.

The Canaryseed Development Commission of Saskatchewan was established by regulation on February 23, 2006. The establishment of the CDCS followed an extensive review of the check-off proposal submitted by canaryseed producers. The Agri-Food Council reviewed the proposal based on the merit of the plan and the demonstrated support for the plan from Saskatchewan canaryseed producers. After this review, the Council recommended to the Minister of Agriculture and Food that the proposed check-off be established.

The Administrator is charged with the following tasks:

- carrying out quota allocation, pricing and levy collection duties and procedures;
- resolving industry disputes; and
- exploring with industry new decision-making structures.

Orders

The Chicken Farmers of Saskatchewan exercise powers granted by its marketing plan through orders. These orders require Council approval prior to coming into effect. The Council reviewed and approved the following orders of the CFS in 2006-07:

Order No. 33/06: Exemptions (effective November 29, 2006)

Purpose: This order determines that any individual, corporation, cooperative, trust and any other entity producing less than 1000 chickens in a calendar year is not required to be licensed with, or pay fees or charges for services rendered by, the CFS.

Order No. 34/06: Base Quota Limits (effective November 29, 2006)

Purpose: This order, which replaces Order No. 04/00, is to lower the partnership and corporate farm total base quota ownership limit to six per cent from eight per cent. This is consistent with individual ownership limits, which will remain at six per cent. The CFS believed that the policy should be consistent for all producers, because the previous policy could be viewed as discriminatory against individuals. No existing corporations or partnerships are currently producing over six per cent, therefore no producers will be grandfathered under the previous policy.

Order No. 35/06: Overproduction Charges

(effective November 29, 2006)

Purpose: This order, which replaces Order No. 18/00, is to clarify the monetary penalty structure for overproduction. There is no change to the structure that the Board is currently operating under.

This Order also requires that excess kilograms produced are to be deducted in consecutive periods following an overproduction period, rather than in the sixth production period following an overproduction period. This will assist in preventing situations where a producer is in a quota reduction situation and then sells the quota before the reduction occurs, thereby penalizing the quota buyer for that overproduction.

Production

There were 93 licensed producers in 2006. The 2006 broiler base production for Saskatchewan was 51,544,570 kilograms (live), an increase of 12.35 per cent over 2005.

Orders

The Saskatchewan Egg Producers exercises certain powers granted by its marketing plan through orders. These orders require Council approval prior to coming into effect. The Council reviewed and approved the following orders of the Saskatchewan Egg Producers in 2006-07:

Order No. 40/06: Risk Management Order (effective July 1, 2006)

Purpose: This order requires licensed egg producers to allow their production facilities to be tested once per cycle. All tested facilities will have their eggs sold to the table egg market if the tests are Salmonella enteritidis (Se) negative. If a producer refuses testing, his or her production facilities will be classified as "untested", and his or her eggs will be diverted to a breaker plant.

"Untested" facilities can be classified as Se negative if they allow the tests to be conducted at a later date and are found to be Se negative. Se positive eggs will also be diverted to a breaker plant.

There is a national Se testing program operated by the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency, the Start Clean, Stay Clean (SCSC) Program, however this program is not mandatory. In addition to this compensatory program, most other provinces have mandatory testing programs in place.

Order No. 41/06: The Industry Management Order 2006 (effective June 19, 2006)

Purpose: This order is a revision of Order No. 39/05: The Industry Management Order 2005. The SEP submitted the proposed Order to clarify that if an unlicensed producer is found to have more than 299 laying hens in his/her possession, then a $2.00 per bird penalty will be assessed immediately, and an additional $2.00 per bird per week will be assessed thereafter.
