1 Introduction

The Builders' Lien Act gives members of the construction industry the right to claim and register a Builders' lien. The lien secures payment for the work or services performed or materials supplied.

Entitlement to a lien depends on the work done, the services rendered and the materials supplied to complete an improvement for an owner, contractor or subcontractor. An improvement is a thing intended to be constructed, erected, built, placed, altered, repaired, improved, added to, dug or drilled.

Architects, engineers, contractors, subcontractors, labourers, material suppliers, land surveyors and providers of equipment and services may claim a Builders' lien (the Claimant).

The lien arises when the work is begun, services are first rendered, or the first material is supplied. The amount of a Claimant's lien is limited to the actual value of services rendered, subject to the statutory hold-back provisions. No lien exists for a claim of less than $100. Liens must generally be registered within 40 days of the completion of the work.

2 Builders' Liens on Mineral Rights

A Builders' lien registered against a mineral right is an instrument that provides the claimant with a recognized interest if the disposition is transferred or in the event of bankruptcy. The process to register a lien involving Crown minerals must be completed through the Ministry of the Economy. The process to register a lien against freehold minerals must be completed through Information Services Corporation (ISC).

Builders' liens can only be registered against provincial Crown minerals if a provincial Crown mineral disposition (provincial disposition) has been issued. A provincial disposition authorizes the Disposition Holder to explore for or develop Crown mineral rights such as oil, natural gas, potash, uranium, coal, etc. and is issued in the form of a lease, license, permit or claim. A lien does not affect the terms of the provincial disposition and the Disposition Holder can continue to operate as usual.

This document deals with registering a lien against a provincial disposition.

3 Integrated Resource Information System (IRIS).

The Integrated Resource Information System (IRIS) is an online business system that supports the development and regulation of Saskatchewan's energy and resources industry. Through IRIS, the oil and gas industry completes regularly performed business activities and regulatory tasks with the province online at www.saskatchewan.ca/IRIS.

All builders' lien registration and discharge applications associated with PNG dispositions must be submitted through IRIS. For instructions on accessing IRIS, please visit www.saskatchewan.ca/IRIS for the IRIS login procedures. Some IRIS business requirements are provided below. For more information on how to operate in IRIS, contact:

Support Desk

Ministry of the Economy

Email: er.support@gov.sk.ca

Toll Free: 1-844-213-1030

Regina Area: 306-787-5347

3.1 IRIS Business Information

- a) A Business Associate (BA) identification (ID) is required to submit any work in IRIS. The BA ID is for the applicant (the party completing and submitting the application), not the claimant (the party who is owed money), unless the two are the same. Apply for a BA ID online at www.petrinex.ca. Parties who have submitted builders' lien applications in the past few years have been assigned a BA ID. To maintain your BA contact information, contact ER Support.
- b) The payer's BAID must be identified at the time the application is submitted in IRIS. An invoice will be generated and sent to the payer's IRIS inbox or to the applicant's email, as specified in the account settings. Invoices are generated on a monthly schedule and it may take some time to appear in the IRIS inbox after the application has been reviewed.
- c) IRIS will issue an Instrument Number for each Builders' lien. Previously provided Document Numbers or builders' lien numbers are not searchable through IRIS. To locate information on an existing Builders' lien, search for the disposition number that the lien was registered against.
- d) IRIS will be the only means of communication between the Ministry and PNG lien applicants. Parties will need to monitor their IRIS accounts to receive updates to the status of the application, including the assessment of fees. No information will be sent by ordinary mail. Users can change their IRIS account settings to allow notifications to be sent via email. However, some activities - including invoicing - are only accessible through IRIS and cannot be sent through email.
- e) IRIS instrument applications are accessed through the Applications tab on the IRIS main page. Click on Tenure Administrative and you will be given the choice under Instrument to either register or discharge a Builders' Lien. Enter all required data, scan and upload the original associated document into IRIS, and submit the - application for ministry review. Once the application has been successfully submitted, IRIS will provide an application number. To follow the status of the application, record the application number for your reference.

- f) Upon completion of the ministry review, a notification with a link to the results will be sent to the applicant. Depending on the applicant's IRIS settings, the notification will either be sent by email or to an IRIS inbox. The link will show the results of the application review and, if approved, will provide an Instrument Number. The Instrument Number is a new reference number for the builders' lien and replaces the Document Number previously assigned to builders' liens.
 - g) Once approved, IRIS will automatically generate an invoice that must be picked up and paid. To find an invoice in IRIS, click on the reports tab and then click on "invoices". This will bring you to the Invoice Search screen where you can input your BA code, perform a search, and pick up your invoice(s). Note: the company that you are doing the work on behalf of must set you up with the appropriate securities (I.BLNG.Invoice.View and I.BLNG.Base). There will no longer be a manual invoicing process in place for Builder's Liens.

4 Instrument Registry

The builders' lien instrument must be registered to be in effect. As identified below, depending on the ownership and disposition type associated with Crown minerals, there are three different ways to register a builders' lien.

To register a lien against Freehold minerals, please contact ISC:

Website: www.isc.ca

Phone: 1-866-275-4721

Email: ask@isc.ca

To register a lien against provincial Crown petroleum and/or natural gas (PNG) dispositions, please use the Integrated Resource Information System \(IRIS\). For more information on how to operate in IRIS, contact:

Support Desk

Ministry of the Economy

Email: er.support@gov.sk.ca

Toll Free: 1-844-213-1030

Regina Area: 306-787-5347

To register a lien again a provincial non-PNG disposition, please submit the application to:

Records Officer:

Lands and Mineral Tenure

Ministry of the Economy
1000 – 2103 11th Avenue
REGINA SK S4P 3Z8
Email: mineral.rights@gov.sk.ca
Phone: 306-787-2588

The Records Officer will communicate with the applicant in the same manner in which it was contacted.

5 Application Preparation

All applications to register or discharge a builders' lien must be accompanied by an associated document. The associated document varies depending on the action that is being requested (see tables below). The associated document must be scanned and submitted electronically for PNG dispositions in IRIS and can be submitted either electronically or in hard copy for non-PNG dispositions.

The associated document must be complete and accurate before the instrument can be registered. In the case of Crown minerals, the correct provincial disposition number, name of Disposition Holder and land subject to the lien must be identified in order for the lien to be approved. If the associated document is not complete or accurate, the application will be denied and returned to the Claimant. The following online resources are available to find the required information:

- a. IRIS: Search for PNG dispositions
www.saskatchewan.ca/IRIS
- b. Geological Atlas: Search for any provincial disposition using GIS http://www.infomaps.gov.sk.ca/website/SIR_Geological_Atlas/viewer.htm. Instructions for "How To Use This Site" are available by clicking the wording in the top right corner of the page.

In IRIS, a separate application must be made for each provincial disposition affected by the lien. The same Claim of Lien can be attached to each application. The cost to register a builders' lien is $50.00 per disposition included in the Lien.

6 Register Instrument

The following table identifies the various actions and the required associated document for any lien to be registered against a provincial disposition.

The two IRIS columns provide useful information on completing an IRIS online application but have no meaning for non-PNG dispositions.

9 Questions and Answers

a) What is a builders' lien?

A builders' lien is a registered instrument that is used to secure payment for the work or services performed or materials supplied

b) What is a provincial disposition?

A provincial disposition can be a lease, license, permit or claim issued under The Crown Minerals Act. It authorizes the right to explore for or to develop Crown minerals such as oil, natural gas, potash, uranium, coal, etc. Provincial dispositions do not include any surface rights.

c) How does a Builders' Lien affect a provincial disposition?

Section 51 of The Builders' Lien Act provides for the registration of a builders' lien against a provincial disposition when a person or company believes it is owed money for work undertaken in relation to a disposed Crown mineral. Registration of a lien against a provincial disposition provides the claimant with a recognized interest if the disposition is transferred or in the event of bankruptcy. All rights provided under the mineral disposition are unaffected by the lien and the disposition holder can continue to operate in a business-as-usual fashion.

d) How do I register a builders' lien against a Crown disposition?

Complete Form E, Claim of Lien, Parts A and B and submit to the Records Officer as follows:

- Oil or Gas dispositions: attach a scanned version in the Instrument Register Application in IRIS.
- Non-oil or gas dispositions: deliver hard copies to the Records Officer or scan and send by email to the email address provided for the Records Officer.

Ensure the disposition number, disposition holder name and the land location subject to the lien are complete and accurate. A Claim of Lien cannot be registered if no disposition exists on the location or if the information is incorrect. Any Claim of Lien requiring more information will be denied by the Ministry.

Changes to an existing lien need to be registered using the associated documents identified in the previous tables.

e) Can anyone obtain a copy of the builders' lien, once it has been registered?

Yes. Builders' liens against a provincial PNG disposition can be accessed through IRIS with an active BA ID. Contact the Records Officer for liens registered against a non-PNG disposition.

f) What fees are applicable to a builders' lien?

The cost to register a builders' lien is $50.00 per disposition included in the Lien. The payee's BA code must be entered when the Lien is submitted onto IRIS and an invoice will be issued once the Ministry has completed its review of the application. There is no cost associated with discharging a builders' lien.

g) How do I get information on the provincial disposition?

Disposition information can be obtained using information available on the Ministry of the Economy's website. The web links are:

- IRIS: www.saskatchewan.ca/IRIS
- GeoAtlas: http://www.infomaps.gov.sk.ca/website/SIR_Geological_Atlas/viewer.htm

Instructions for "How To Use This Site" (GeoAtlas) are available by clicking the wording in the top right corner of the page. For more information, contact the Support Desk.

h) What is IRIS?

The Integrated Resource Information System (IRIS) is an online business system that supports the development and regulation of Saskatchewan's energy and resources industry. Through IRIS, the oil and gas industry completes regularly performed business activities and regulatory tasks with the province online at www.saskatchewan.ca/IRIS.

For more information on how to operate in IRIS, contact:

Support Desk

Ministry of the Economy

Email: er.support@gov.sk.ca

Toll Free: 1-844-213-1030
Regina Area: 306-787-5347

i) What is a BA code and how do I get one?

Any entity that conducts business activities with the Government of Saskatchewan through IRIS is referred to as a Business Associate (BA). Every BA must have an active BA ID (code), which is a five-character numeric identification code. BAs apply to the Government of Saskatchewan for a BA ID through www.petrinex.ca. For more information on Petrinex, contact the Support Desk.

j) Where can I get a copy of The Builders' Lien Act?

A copy of Act and its regulations can be obtained at no cost by visiting the Queen's Printer website at <http://www.publications.gov.sk.ca/legislation>.

k) Can a builders' lien be registered against a Crown mineral title?

No. Section 51 of The Builders' Lien Act requires the lien to be registered against the provincial disposition. The Ministry of the Economy will order the removal of any liens registered against a Crown mineral title or abstract registered or recorded in the Saskatchewan Land Titles Registry.

l) Can a builders' lien be registered against privately-owned minerals?

A builders' lien with respect to work conducted in relation to privately-owned minerals can be registered as an interest against a mineral title registered in the Saskatchewan Land Titles Registry. Please contact the Information Services Corporation (ISC) for more information. ISC's website is www.isc.ca.

m) Do I need the Mineral Parcel or Mineral Title number found on ISC?

No. The mineral parcel number and the mineral title number are not required to register a lien against a provincial disposition.

n) How is the order of registration determined for builders' liens registered against provincial dispositions?

The date and time that the claim is received is used to determine the order of registration on the provincial disposition:

- PNG dispositions: the date and, if necessary, time the application is submitted into IRIS will be used as the registration date. Liens registered prior to IRIS use the registration date and, if necessary, time the Claim of Lien was received.

- Non-PNG dispositions: the date and time the application is received by the Ministry, whether by email, mail or courier, will determine the order of registration.

o) How can a builders' lien be removed?

Builders' liens can be discharged by:

- Discharge: removal of a full or partial discharge
- Discharge by Court Order (section 60 of The Builders' Lien Act)
- Lapse: removal of the lien by the Disposition Holder through successful completion of the Lapse Procedure (section 58 of The Builders' Lien Act)
- Expiry: provincial disposition expiration without conversion to another disposition
- Withdrawal: withdrawing the application to register a lien before the lien is registered

p) How do I discharge the Builders' lien?

A lien can be discharge when the Claimant is satisfied that it has been adequately reimbursed for the moneys owing. A Builders' lien can be fully or partially discharged. A partial discharge can reduce either the amount owing or remove certain portions of the encumbered land. The discharge of the builders' lien can be requested by the claimant or the person representing the claimant.

q) Discharge by Court Order

A builders' lien can be vacated according to Section 60 of The Builders' Lien Act. When a judge declares that a builders' lien no longer binds the person to whom it was given, the judge will order the lien discharged. A copy of the court order is required to discharge the lien.

r) How do I lapse a Lien?

Lapse is a procedure during which a notice is placed on the lien in the attempt to remove it from the provincial disposition without making the required payment for the services or materials provided and without going through legal channels. It is typically initiated by the Disposition Holder who may not be in agreement of the services provided.

To initiate the Lapse procedure, the Disposition Holder will submit the Affidavit to Request a Lapse. Once approved, the ministry will notify the Claimant of the request to lapse by registered mail. The Claimant will have 30 days to seek a court order to extend the registration of the lien. The lien will not be removed if the Claimant submits a Certificate of Action before the end of the 30 days.

At the end of the 30 day period, the Disposition Holder is required to submit the Lapse of Interest to complete the lapse process and discharge the Builders' lien.

Should the Disposition Holder's name change within the 30 day lapse period following the initiation of the lapse, an Affidavit of Lapse Disposition Transfer During Lapsing Process will need to be submitted by the Disposition Holder.

s) Does a builders' lien expire:

Builders' liens do not expire. The only two instances where an 'expiry' exists on a builders' lien are as follows:

- Lapse Procedure: After 30 days, the Notice to Lapse expires and the request to discharge a lien can be made.
- Provincial disposition: when a provincial disposition expires and is not converted to another type of disposition, the builders' lien is no longer valid.

t) What happens if the provincial disposition expires?

When a provincial disposition expires it can be converted to a different type of disposition (e.g. permit converted to lease) or, if it is not converted, it simply ceases to exist. If the disposition is being converted, the lien will be transferred to the new disposition by the ministry. In the event the disposition ceases to exist, the Builders' Lien automatically becomes non-existent and the claimant will be notified.

u) How do I withdraw a lien application?

To withdraw a builders' lien, the request to withdraw must be received by the Records Officer before the Claim of Lien has been registered. If the Records Officer is notified in time, the documents will be returned to the submitting party and the registration fees, if paid, will be refunded.
